How to Use this Toolkit

Companies join the UN Global Compact because they share a common conviction: business practices rooted in universal principles contribute to a more stable and inclusive global market, and help build prosperous and thriving societies where business can succeed. Through continued engagement, you can help set the standard worldwide for sustainable and responsible business practices.

Companies like yours that choose to become full Participants actively engage at the global level with the UN Global Compact. We commit to providing the tools and guidance along the way that help you tell your sustainability story.

WELCOME TO YOUR MEDIA TOOLKIT!

Inside, you'll find efficient and easy-to-use tools and guidance for communicating your engagement with the UN Global Compact via your new Participant profile page on our website, in your press releases and across your social media channels. A brief overview on the Endorser and Communication on Progress (COP) logos is also provided.

Designed exclusively for UN Global Compact Participant companies, this media toolkit is aimed at helping your company publicly communicate its commitment to our Ten Principles and the UN Global Goals. Read on to learn how to effectively promote your key activities to your customers, investors, partners, peers and employees – all your key stakeholders – across various communication channels.

By integrating to a principles-based approach to sustainability, [company name] is taking shared responsibility for achieving a better world.

BOILERPLATE

Many companies choose to add a line about their participation in the UN Global Compact as part of a standard boilerplate. It's an easy and effective way to ensure the public knows of your commitment to the Ten Principles of the UN Global Compact.

[Sample 1] As part of our commitment to sustainable and responsible business practices, [company name] has embedded the Ten Principles of the United Nations Global Compact into strategies and operations, and committed to respecting human and labour rights, safeguarding the environment, and working against corruption in all its forms.

[Sample 2] As a Participant of the United Nations Global Compact, [company name] is committed to aligning strategies and operations with universal principles on human rights, labour, environment and anti-corruption, and take actions that advance societal goals.

[Sample 3] [Company name] is a Participant of the United Nations Global Compact and adheres to its principles-based approach to responsible business.

[Sample 4] [Company name] has aligned our strategies and operations with the Ten Principles of the United Nations Global Compact since [joining year].

Social Media Guide

Social media is more important than you may think. By 2025, estimates show that there will be approximately 4.41 billion social media users around the globe.

Social networks can help your company share your products and services beyond local or social boundaries, but it goes even further than that.

Customer loyalty is increasingly about values and transparency, and a growing number of consumers are drawn to responsible and sustainable brands. Social media is an effective way to share the mission and values of your organization – including through your participation in the UN Global Compact.

You can also get social with us! Follow our primary social media accounts and engage with us across a variety of platforms. This is also a key way to stay in-the-loop with our activities and upcoming events.

COMMUNICATION
ON PROGRESS

This is our Communication on Progress in implementing the Ten Principles of the United Nations Global Compact and supporting broader UN goals.

We welcome feedback on its contents.

THE TEN PRINCIPLES OF THE UNITED NATIONS GLOBAL COMPACT

HUMAN RIGHTS

1. Businesses should support and respect the protection of internationally proclaimed human rights; and
2. make sure that they are not complicit in human rights abuses.

LABOUR

3. Businesses should uphold the freedom of association and the effective recognition of the right to collective bargaining;
4. the elimination of all forms of forced and compulsory labour;
5. the effective abolition of child labour; and
6. the elimination of discrimination in respect of employment and occupation.

ENVIRONMENT

7. Businesses should support a precautionary approach to environmental challenges;
8. undertake initiatives to promote greater environmental responsibility; and
9. encourage the development and diffusion of environmentally friendly technologies.

ANTI-CORRUPTION

10. Businesses should work against corruption in all its forms, including extortion and bribery.

ABOUT THE UNITED NATIONS GLOBAL COMPACT

As a special initiative of the UN Secretary-General, the United Nations Global Compact is a call to companies everywhere to align their operations and strategies with Ten Principles in the areas of human rights, labour, environment and anti-corruption. Our ambition is to accelerate and scale the global collective impact of business by upholding the Ten Principles and delivering the Sustainable Development Goals through accountable companies and ecosystems that enable change.

With more than 15,000 companies and 3,800 non-business signatories based in over 160 countries, and 69 Local Networks, the UN Global Compact is the world's largest corporate sustainability initiative. One Global Compact uniting business for a better world.
